VARIETY

Sauvignon Blanc:
The most internationally renowned aromatic white variety. Due to its rich aromatic dynamic this grape is considered irreplaceable and has won the title of "well-travelled". It is cultivated world-wide and has proven to be adaptable as a variety, earning the "cosmopolitan" denomination it deserves. The wine wrought from Sauvignon Blanc has a pleasant aroma and taste, refreshing acidity and an aromatic bouquet of grapefruit, melon and exotic fruit. It is to be found in varying vestiges, depending on the area in which it is cultivated, and the vinification processes used.

VINIFICATION PROCESS

The grape is harvested by hand, in the first week of September. The grapes are selected with the greatest of care from the vine andthe collection of the must is carried out with gentle pressure. The must is decanted at a low temperature for a few hours and the vinification commences at between 16o C- 19o C. The wine is then decanted and is left to rest in the lees for approximately two months.
